

UN Position in Congo Trouble Getting Worse

By DENNIS NEED
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The U.N. Congo Command bargaining position worsened today, at least temporarily, with an announcement that 800 Moroccan soldiers previously scheduled for transfer to Leopoldville would be flown home instead.

The United Nations had announced Tuesday that the Moroccans were already being flown in from Katanga Province, and observers saw them as a strengthening for the U.N. demand to return to Matadi.

But today a U.N. spokesman said there had been a change of orders and the Moroccans would be flown to Morocco.

The spokesman refused to comment on reports that the Moroccans had refused to board planes to bring them to Leopoldville.

Six hundred Tunisian soldiers did arrive in Leopoldville today on schedule to reinforce the local U.N. garrison. The first of 3,000 Indian soldiers are due next week. But 400 Sudanese troops who bore

"We always go down to the store and pay for the lollipop," she explained.

Lawyer Asks Grand Jury Be Discharged

DE VALIS BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—An attorney wants the Prairie County Grand Jury discharged on the ground that its members have been asked to investigate last summer's contested Sereeton-Gunter election.

John Dale Thweatt, who represented former state Sen. Jerry Sereeton of Hazen during an election contest suit, filed a motion Tuesday asking Circuit Judge W. J. Waggoner to discharge the jurors.

Waggoner took no action on the motion, which was filed on behalf of five men who served as Hazen Township election judges.

Thweatt's motion said a previous grand jury which investigated "alleged frauds and other misconduct" had absolved the election judges and that the new grand jury could not make further investigations. But he said new jurors had been approached about making an investigation.

The motion was filed for R. C. Hartlieb, D. M. Loudermilk, James M. Theall, Conley Gray and J. R. Haynes.

The previous grand jury indicted Eagle Boyd of Hazen and Joe Chambers of De Valis Bluff for allegedly betting on the outcome of the Democratic primary election between Sereeton and J. T. Gunter of Austin. Sereeton's name appeared on the general election ballot, but he was defeated by Charles L. George of Cabot, a write-in candidate.

Fire Damages Rateliff Store Here

The Ocie Rateliff combination grocery store and home at 16th and Main Streets was heavily damaged by fire about 3 a. m. today. There was no estimate as to the loss but it is expected to be several thousand dollars.

Firemen said a passing truck driver saw the blaze, stopped and alerted the Rateliff family. The blaze, whipped by high winds, had pretty well engulfed the building by the time firemen arrived. Most of the damage was to the upstairs part of the building. Firemen believed the blaze started from a bathroom.

Taxes Discussed at Kiwanis Meet

The high cost of taxation by the federal government and the need for certain tax reform programs were outlined in a talk and visual aid film before Hope Kiwanis club yesterday by B. N. Holt, secretary.

High taxation, in certain forms, limits jobs, restricts production and hampers industry from growing and expanding, Mr. Holt pointed out.

He appeared on a program arranged by Bill Caldwell. Guests included Calvin Caldwell, Carroll Rowe, Janet Roberts, Clark Garrison, and Orson Harris, the latter the father of Dr. Lynn Harris.

The Rev. Clifton Bell was introduced as a new member.

Kiwanian Fred Grey reported that nearly 400 persons attended the Kiwanis Pancake Day last Saturday at Hotel Barlow. Proceeds go to the Youth Program.

Hatchery Bill Is Planned

WASHINGTON G (AP)—A bill that would authorize construction of a fish hatchery below Greers Ferry Dam on the Little Red River in Arkansas will be introduced in the House of Representatives today by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark.

Mills said that under his proposal the hatchery, which would cost an estimated $800,000, would have an output of 150,000 pounds of cold water fish annually.

Truck Bill Is Defeated in the House

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Despite vigorous efforts by the trucking lobby the controversial truck weight measure was defeated by the Arkansas House 41-55 Tuesday.

Perry Rep. Paul Van Dalsem labeled the defeat "a victory for the people."

Van Dalsem, leader of a small band opposing the measure, said, "The people just didn't want their highways torn up."

The defeat came after three weeks of stormy parliamentary debate which saw Van Dalsem keep the bill from coming to a vote twice through filibustering tactics.

A companion bill that would have increased license fees on trucks was also beaten after receiving only 46 of the 75 votes needed for passage. There were an identical 46 opposing votes.

Still in a bill beating mood, the House also pulled the rug from under a Senate bill that proposed a constitutional convention next November.

Again, Van Dalsem was on the opposing team. Said Van Dalsem, "This is not the time for a constitutional convention."

The Perry County representative argued that the constitution can be easily changed since each legislature can present three proposed amendments and "anyone can propose an amendment by petition."

The convention bill, carrying an appropriation tag of $100,000 to pay convention expenses, received only 37 of the necessary 75 votes.

St. Francis County Rep. O. P. Hammons, a backer of the convention plan, said the idea of this not being the time for a convention "is the same old argument."

Arkansas Hit With Variety of Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A line of thunderstorms swept over Arkansas Tuesday night and early today and the Weather Bureau warned of a flood on the St. Francis River in eastern Arkansas.

Skies generally were sunny or partly cloudy over the state, but very light snow was reported in Fayetteville and scattered frost was predicted for north Arkansas tonight.

The Weather bureau forecast crests of three to four feet above flood stage on the St. Francis River and warned that precautions against flooding should be taken in unprotected areas in the Fisk-St. Francis region.

A crest of 23.5 to 24 feet was forecast at Fisk, where flood stage is 20 feet, on Friday, with a 20.5 crest at St. Francis, where flood stage is 18 feet, early next week.

Most of western and northwest Arkansas was under a severe weather forecast Tuesday night and it later was shifted to northeast Arkansas. But no tornadoes were reported.

The outlook today was for partly cloudy skies with highs in the 60s.

The Weather Bureau said Berryville and Green Forest had hailstorms Tuesday.

Schools closed early in the Harrison area because of the weather warning.

Light heavy thundershowers occurred in many parts of the state. The heaviest rain was 2.27 inches at Des Arc, Antoine, Parks and Boughton each had more than an inch. Nearly an inch fell at Flippin, Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Booneville, Texarkana and Heber Springs and El Dorado and Mountain Home had about half an inch.

Crests near flood stage also were predicted for the White River. The Weather Bureau forecast a crest of 20 to 21 feet at Newport, where flood stage is 26 feet, on Friday, a crest of 31 feet at Augusta, where flood stage is 32 feet, on Monday and a crest of 26 to 27 feet at Clarendon, where flood stages if 26 feet, next Thursday.

The Black River was reported near crest at Black Rock. Smaller rises were forecast for the Ouachita and Arkansas Rivers.

The only damage reported during Tuesday's weather alerts came when lightning started a fire which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Strooper of Richwoods, near Arkadelphia. The family was not home at the time.

Construction Bill Goes to Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Senate today passed 29-3 a House version of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' $17 million omnibus construction program. This will send the measure to the governor.

The Senate had passed its own version of the bill Monday.

Also approved was a House bill which would relieve unopposed candidates from the present necessity of filing an expense account.

The Senate passed a bill of its own to permit the killing of foxes as a preventative of the spread of rabies.

FHA Freezes Funds For Arkansas

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Federal Housing Authority — attributing its action to a law passed in the current Arkansas Legislature—Tuesday froze funds for housing projects in three Arkansas counties.

The FHA said the bill limited the area for operation of a county housing authority to unincorporated areas. The FHA said that formerly a county authority could operate in incorporated areas or cities of less than 4,000 population.

The freeze in Howard, Logan and Poinsett counties involves 134 family units in Dierks, Mineral Springs, Nashville, Booneville, Harrisburg and Lepanto.

The units cost $8,000 to $10,000 each, the FHA said.

The bill to which the FHA referred gave second class cities and incorporated towns authority to form housing authorities. Its sponsor, Sen. Marshall Slackleford of El Dorado said it did not take any authority away from county agencies.

All of Major Legislation Is Completed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—All major administration legislation has cleared the General Assembly and only a few cleanup items remain to be handled, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today.

Faubus said bills to permit investment of Teacher Retirement System funds in industrial corporation bonds and to permit Arkansas to join the Southern Nuclear Compact are the only key items remaining. Both bills have passed the House. The retirement investment bill passed the Senate Tuesday.

Asked for his opinion of the 63rd General Assembly which adjourns at noon Thursday, Faubus said: "I think it has been an excellent legislature. The budgets we worked so hard on have been appropriated with very little disruption and the programs I sponsored have been successful."

Faubus' major effort in the 1961 legislature was a bill to authorize a $60 million construction bond issue and a companion $17 million omnibus building program. He also was successful in getting legislators to endorse his plan for revising the Teacher Retirement System.

Asked what reaction he had gotten on the bond proposal, Faubus said, "The people I have talked to are mostly political leaders and they tell me the issue will sell (to voters)."

"I have not tested the reaction of the general public," Faubus said he was still convinced that the bonds could be retired with no new tax, if the state's economy continues to grow as it has in the past few years.

Commenting on reports that the Arkansas Education Association may work against the bond proposal when it is put to a statewide vote, Faubus said, "If the teachers understand this problem, I believe they will support the bond issue."

Faubus added, "We have certain construction needs that must be taken care of, either now or later. If we take care of them now, there will be a better chance to give more revenue to public schools later."

Faubus declined direct comment on defeat in the House Tuesday of a bill to raise truck weight limits, but he said, "I think the truck weight limit in this state eventually will be raised to the national standard." The national standard, he said, is 73,200 pounds, the maximum which would have been set by the defeated bill.

"However," Faubus added, "I think trucks of heavier weights should be confined to interstate and primary roads and any weight increase should be accompanied by a sizeable increase in truck license fees."

Airline Found Guilty of Antitrust Law

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge today found Pan American World Airways guilty of violating antitrust laws by restraining trade in air traffic to South America through its half ownership of Pan American-Grace Airways, Inc. (Panagra).

In a 70-page opinion, Judge Thomas F. Murphy suggested the government prepare a final decree containing an order for Pan American to divest itself of its Panagra stock.

Opposes Aid to Church Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy still is opposed to granting federal aid to parochial and private schools, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana said today.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, reported Kennedy's position to newsmen after the President's regular weekly meeting with Democratic congressional chiefs.

At a news conference last week Kennedy said federal aid to parochial and private schools would be clearly unconstitutional. He added that on the basis of a Supreme Court decision, the matter is not even open for debate.

Some members of the Roman Catholic Church hierarchy have taken sharp issue with the President. Calling for a new provision in the Kennedy school aid plan for a program of loans, they contend that such aid to private schools can be granted within the framework of the Constitution.

Over the weekend, Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, the House Democratic floor leader, asserted anew that he believes it would be entirely constitutional to grant long-term, low interest federal loans to parochial and private schools for construction, renovation and repair of school facilities.

McCormack attended today's White House session, but offered no new comment on the school issue as the congressional leaders talked to reporters after the meeting.

Kennedy, McCormack and Mike Mansfield are all Catholics.

Mansfield reported Kennedy "very satisfied with the progress that Congress is making" on the administration's over-all legislative program.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., reviewing the status of various legislative measures in the House, said "we are moving with as much speed as is judicious."

occurred Monday, each house merely gave formal passage to the other's twin bill.

Three senators, who voted against the bill Monday failed to give in and again cast their ballots against it Tuesday. The dissenters were Roy Milum of Harrison, John Eldridge of Augusta and Dan Sprick of Little Rock.

The omnibus bill is a component penditures program.

The Senate gave its approval by a vote of 30-0 to the placing of a Faubus - proposed constitutional amendment on the election ballot.

Faubus had suggested in his inaugural address an amendment whereby no child would be denied a public education for refusing to attend integrated classes.

The amendment had been given a "do not pass" label by the Senate - House Constitutional Amendments Committee on Monday, but passed anyway.

Ironically the amendment received neither supporting or opposing arguments. Privately several senators said they hadn't wanted to vote for the measure but "couldn't afford to oppose such a politically - loaded question."

Another bill not receiving any senatorial opposition was one that would authorize cities and counties to jointly sponsor port authorities.

The port authorities would be given the power to issue bond for buying or constructing river port facilities.

Other Senate - approved bill would:

Establish minimum and maximum state aid to school districts for pupil transportation.

Protect important archeological sites in Arkansas.

Allow a driver to post his license in some traffic cases in place of bond.

Fix lifetime hunting and fishing license fees. The measure would allow a person 65 to buy a license for $2. The same license would cost a 16-year-old $98.

Require Arkansas Supreme law clerks to be licensed attorneys. The Senate defeated a House bill to exempt seed, fertilizer and insecticides from the sales tax. Another bill defeated would have established a state banking commission.

Education Commissioner Arch Ford apparently won't be given a $2,000 pay boost by the current legislature. The Senate withdrew an amendment that would have boosted Ford's salary from $10,800 to $12,000. It has been adopted last week but failed in the House.

A similar pay raise for Don Russell, director of the Arkansas Rehabilitation Service, was denied by the Senate. The Senate withdrew an amendment which would have increased Russell's salary from $10,000 to $11,200. The House had rejected it previously. The governor vetoed a bill that would have authorized the Arkansas Bar Association president to appoint two lawyers who are former legislators to the Interstate Co. - operation Commission. While no one was specifically named in the bill, a sponsor said it was designed to permit Sam Levine of Pine Bluff, a critic of Faubus' racially - tinged measure, and Weems Trussell of Fordyce to remain on the commission. Both are former legislators. Faubus also vetoed a bill that would have allowed a $15 daily expense payment to members of county education boards. In vetoing a resolution to establish a commission to study the state park system, the governor would have said the job could be handled by the Legislative Council.

the brunt of Congolese army attacks in the ports of Matadi and Banana last week are being called home.

The Congolese government today presented a five-point ultimatum to Rajeshwar Dayal, Indian head of the U.N. Congo operation, and said it must be fulfilled before U.N. forces can return to Matadi, the chief supply port from which the U.N. Sudanese garrison was expelled Sunday.

The United Nations was considered certain to reject the Congolese demands, which were:

1. Dayal must be recalled and replaced by an "impartial" U.N. official. The Leopoldville government charges Dayal is opposed to it.

2. The Congolese must control the flights of all U.N. aircraft in the Congo and all river traffic.

3. The United Nations must hand over all strategic bases to the Congolese.

4. The United Nations must stage no more armed parades in Leopoldville.

5. Dayal must officially retract his "lying statements" that the Congolese fired first at Matadi and Banana.

An earlier Congolese demand for control of the strategic bases and air traffic in exchange for return of U.N. soldiers to Matadi had been termed "obviously unacceptable" by U.N. sources.

The Congolese demands were put to Dayal and Irish Gen. Sean MacKeown, the U.N. military chief, by acting Premier Albert Delvaux and Jacques Massa, a member of his Cabinet.

As the negotiations continued, the Congolese talked with increasing belligerence as a result of their victory over the Sudanese garrison that withdrew from Ma-

Negotiations continued, but the Congolese talked with increasing belligerence after their victory over the 140-man Sudanese garrison which withdrew from Matadi Sunday. Acting Congo Premier Albert Delvaux told newsmen "For the moment we have decided that U.N. troops will not go back" to Matadi, which is 150 miles southwest of Leopoldville.

The U.N. command began a buildup of its forces here, raising speculation they would be unleashed to fight into Matadi if negotiations fail. Some 800 Moroccans were arriving from Katanga and 600 soldiers were due from Tunisia. The first of 3,000 Indian troops probably will begin arriving in a week.

Although the U.N. command had warned it would return to Matadi by force if necessary, a U.N. spokesman denied the troop reinforcements were made to put pressure on the Congolese.

Delvaux demanded that Congolese authorities inspect all U.N. planes before they take off for another part of the country and that U.N. troops hand over control of all "strategic points" to Congolese forces.

Negotiations continued, but the Congolese talked with increasing belligerence after their victory over the 140-man Sudanese garrison which withdrew from Matadi Sunday. Acting Congo Premier Albert Delvaux told newsmen "For the moment we have decided that U.N. troops will not go back" to Matadi, which is 150 miles southwest of Leopoldville.

The U.N. command began a buildup of its forces here, raising speculation they would be unleashed to fight into Matadi if negotiations fail. Some 800 Moroccans were arriving from Katanga and 600 soldiers were due from Tunisia. The first of 3,000 Indian troops probably will begin arriving in a week.

Although the U.N. command had warned it would return to Matadi by force if necessary, a U.N. spokesman denied the troop reinforcements were made to put pressure on the Congolese.

Delvaux demanded that Congolese authorities inspect all U.N. planes before they take off for another part of the country and that U.N. troops hand over control of all "strategic points" to Congolese forces.

A U.N. spokesman commented

The first spring days can make you want to sparkle. So start your beauty program now in order to be ready. Brushing your hair before a shampoo is the first step (left). A beauty bath (center) rich with oil and fragrant with soapsuds will get rid of flaky skin. Use a brush on elbows, knees and heels. A fresh and glowing look (right) is the result of this end-of-winter program. This is also the ideal time of year to have your hair restyled.

ers and artists have all been day-dreamers. Teen-agers, especially those just entering adolescence, day-dream a lot too. With them, it's just part of the process of growing up. Maybe that's what ails you. Try following a schedule even if you have to police yourself with an alarm clock. Ask your parents to buy you one small enough to carry in your pocket or purse. Make running on schedule a game. It can be fun. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Ambition."

College Girls and Boys Plan Week End — Mother Dubious

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

I've been invited to go skiing by a boy whom I've known a month. The trip would include two other unmarried couples and involve an overnight stay at accommodations for skiers. The plan is to rent two rooms, one for the girls, one for the fellows. The whole trip is Dutch Treat. All of us are college students. Our ages range from 21 to 25. My mother doubts the propriety of the arrangement. Please advise us. —J. K.

Dear J. K.: Theoretically, a girl of 21 being of voting age, is supposed to be old enough to take care of herself. That is debatable. A knowledge of life is also essential, especially if you girls are to stay overnight under the same roof with boys who are attracted to you and you to them. Before going, get the Dean's opinion and es may ride in Harlan County, deep in the eastern Kentucky mountains once known for strife and violence.

Circuit Judge Edward G. Hill, commenting on numerous food and clothing thefts in this depressed coal field, said unpaid volunteers are available to stop new threats of lawlessness.

He added that the sheriff's office doesn't have enough officers to cope with the problem.

Dear Helen: Both my husband and I have been previously married. Our marriage is happy but for one thing: he wants to know how much money I have. If we go out in the car, it's I who pays for gas, oil and treats. In all our 14 years of marriage, I have yet to see his pay check. Don't you think a husband and wife should share alike, and shouldn't the wife know how much her husband makes? —D. L. F.

Dear D. L. F.: Marriage is a partnership as you know if you don't tell your husband how much money you have, how can you expect him to tell you how much he makes? But telling him doesn't mean that you should foot all the bills, especially those for entertainment. If only for his ego's sake, make him pay next time. Be frank and — keep your sense of humor!

Dear Helen: Ever since I was a little girl I've had one great problem — slowness! When I start to get ready for school, I sit in front of the mirror and dream. My parents think I spend the time looking at myself. I don't. I'm just day-dreaming. But time flies and by the end of the day I've run out of time.

I am now 13 and if I don't correct this fault before I get to high school I'll lose out. Help me! —Slow Poke

Dear Slow Poke: If you dream to a purpose, time isn't wasted. Great inventors, musicians, writ-

U. S., Red China Envoys to Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) - Representatives of the United States and Communist China hold diplomatic talks in Warsaw today, the first such sessions since President Kennedy took office.

In advance of the meeting between Ambassadors Jacob D. Beam and Wang Ping-nan, American sources in Washington said Kennedy want to find what areas of agreement are possible.

So far Peiping has kept its anti-United States invective going full blast. The Kennedy administration, reviewing the China problem, has produced no basic change in the U. S. stand against recognizing Red China or admitting it to the United Nations so long as it flouts the international community.

The Warsaw meeting is the 103rd in a series that started after the end of the Korean War.

Raise for Ford Is Sidetracked

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Senate today backed down from a proposal to raise the salaries of Education Commissioner Arch Ford and of Don Russell, head of the Vocational Rehabilitation Service.

The Senate last week amended the Education Department appropriation bill to raise Ford's salary from $10,800 to $12,000 and Russell's from $10,000 to $11,200, with the provision that the increases come from federal funds.

The House Monday refused to go along with the amendments and today the Senate withdrew from them.

Ford will get $800 a year raise anyway, from the present $10,000 to $10,800.

Nationalists on Mainland Pose Problem

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) - Some 5,000 Nationalist Chinese irregulars—remnants of Chiang Kai-shek's anti-Communist force on the mainland—are posing a problem for Southeast Asia and the United States.

For 12 years the irregulars have been roaming the 100-mile long, heavily jungled frontier area where Thailand, Laos, Burma and Communist China meet.

From hideaways in Burmese territory, where they set up an opium processing business, the Nationalists made occasional forays on Communist Chinese border villages.

This earned them the name of bandits among Burmese officials, the increasingly friendly relations who feared the raids would spoil between neutralist Burma and its powerful Communist neighbor.

The Nationalist activities became even more of an irritant last year when the Burmese and Chinese reached agreement on a border treaty ending a long dispute between the two countries.

Last January the Burmese army launched a campaign to clean out the Nationalists.

The Nationalists, armed mostly with World War II vintage weapons, slipped over the borders into neighboring countries. The bulk of them fled to Laos while about 1,000 crossed into Thailand.

Rumors that Nationalist planes from Formosa were dropping American-supplied arms to the irregulars were heightened last month when a Formosa-based plane was shot down in the border area. The Burmese claimed it had dropped arms to the irregulars, and thousands of Burmese rioted in front of the U. S. Embassy in Rangoon.

The U. S. government dispatched an American mission to north Burma to check on the rumors and expressed its concern to Chiang Kai-shek's government.

Chiang's regime claimed the plane was unarmed, chartered by a relief association on Formosa, and was dropping food and medicine.

Thailand's government last week said it had ordered strong troop detachments to northernmost Chiangrai Province to disarm the Chinese and "in case of resistance to expel them from Thai territory by force." Monday night the Thais said the irregulars had withdrawn, presumably back to give the Burmese more headaches.

The story: Chris Waddell tells a hold-up while riding a freight wagon to Midas Hill. Norma Vespasian, a young woman was carrying currency to the mining town for a local store to exchange for dust. When the storekeeper, Millerson and Miss Vespasian hear that Waddell is looking for a man named Frank Scobie, their attitudes seem to change.

In the exchange of regard, here in the frugal light, Chris Waddell had his chance to measure this Frank Scobie against the image of the man he remembered.

Here was the same thick, brown hair and broad, high-boned face. But here also was a betraying edge of weakness in dark eyes not as steady as they had once been.

"Either," Waddell said slowly, "you've been living too well, Frank—or not well enough. Which is it?"

"Maybe a little of both. But let's get out in the office where the air is a little better."

He led the way into the outer room and sank quickly into a chair. "How's it with you, Chris? Where you been and how you been since I saw you last?"

"Been here and there," Waddell told him briefly. "When your letter caught up with me, a doctor in Mesa Bluffs had just sewed up a hole in my ribs."

"That's hard to believe," Waddell admitted. "Tell me though—why did this other fellow quit?"

Frank Scobie showed a shadow of weary hesitation again. "He wasn't smart."

"How do you mean—he wasn't smart?" Waddell got out boldly and papers and twisted up a cigarette.

"By getting into an argument with Geer?"

"Hogan Geer? He runs Gulch. Maybe not exactly run, but he speaks for it. Rufe Be was throwing the weight of badge around a mite too much warned him but he wouldn't listen."

"Didn't you back him up?"

"This camp isn't like any have known, Chris. Here the men that he want the lid kept off but not to fight. They figure Gulch a safety valve, where miners can blow off steam; as they stay in the Gulch away from this main part town, most anything goes. But he was getting to strict. So Scobie hunched a shoulder."

This Curtain Really Fell

NEW YORK (AP)—The curtain really fell during the last act at Longacre Theatre Monday night.

The curtain, which producer Leo Kers described as "old and moth-eaten," tore into shreds in mid-act. The lower half, weighted with a long rod, fell to the stage.

The performance was halted for 12 minutes while the torn fabric was cleared away. Members of the cast of "Rhinoceros" entertained the audience with jokes in the interim.

683 times "around the world"...they pounded the pavements and proved that concrete outperforms asphalt these ways...

17 million miles of test traffic in 2 years... loads up to 54 tons

Sponsored by the American Association of State Highway Officials (AASHO), the 27 million dollar National Road Test was set up to establish basic facts of design and construction for concrete and asphalt pavements.

Test pavements were built on the same soil, to carry the same vehicle loads to designs currently used in various states. 99 loaded trucks — pickups to semi-trailers — pounded them 19 hours a day for 2 years. Millions of scientific measurements were made.

The test has demonstrated concrete's superiority for streets, roads and Interstate highways!

Concrete is more durable!

A count after 2-year test showed concrete outlasted asphalt 3 to 1! Concrete gives you more for your tax money.

Concrete rides easier!

In rideability measurements, concrete won decisively over asphalt. Only concrete can give you lasting driving comfort.

Your state helped finance this test to bring you better roads, full value from tax dollars.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fort Smith, Helena, Jonesboro and Little Rock Central survived first round games Tuesday to advance to the quarterfinals of the Class AA-AAA Senior Boys Basketball Tournament.

A free throw in the final seconds of overtime edged Jonesboro past Rogers 50-49 after a stall by Rogers failed. And Little Rock Central squeaked over Conway 47-43 in another overtime tilt.

Fouls also played a key role in Fort Smith's victory over Smackover. Fort Smith, ahead 48-40 after three fouls, took advantage of heavy fouling by Smackover to win 65-53.

Helena overtook Jacksonville near the end of the third quarter and held on to triumph 57-48.

Royce Rose's two free throws and a rebound field goal by Bill Knight broke the 43-43 overtime tie in Central's whisker-win over Conway.

Conway jumped off the an early lead but Central forged ahead at halftime to lead 25-24. Knight contributed 21 points in Central's winning effort. Conway's Donald Hendrickson got 12.

Jacksonville held a 31-24 halftime lead over Helena but the Indians finally caught Jacksonville late in the third quarter and went into the lead on a long jump shot by John Campbell. The Indians kept their lead and never faltered.

Helena's Ken Hatfield was the game's leading scorer with 25 points, trailed by Jule Parks' 21.

INTO THE STRETCH—Floyd Bedbury leads the field around the final turn and into the stretch in the mile of the National Speed Skating Championships on Lake Como in St. Paul, Minn. Ken Bartholomew, 14-time champion, is second. The race was won by Eddie Rudolph, right, of Chicago in 2:40.2 as the Chicago schoolboy captured the outdoor title.

Loyola Wins Way Into the Nat'l Playoffs

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Loyola of Los Angeles, newly crowned champ of the West Coast Athletic Conference, has made it to the National Collegiate basketball championships for first time, leaving the NCAA with seven vacancies for its far-flung 14-team tournament opening next Tuesday.

Loyola, 19-6 this season, clinched the WCAC title Tuesday night with an 82-64 victory over Pepperdine that really wasn't needed. A few minutes before, Santa Clara had spilled San Francisco 51-39, eliminating the only team left with a chance to catch Loyola.

The Lions from Loyola, representatives of a conference that sent the San Francisco Dons on to back-to-back NCAA titles with All-America Bill Russell in 1955 and 1956, will play the Skyline tournament game in the Far West regional at Portland, Ore., March 17. The Skyline berth will be decided Saturday night in a play-off at Provo, Utah, between champions Utah and Colorado State.

That's the play-off where even the loser wins. While the winner goes to the NCAA, the loser goes to the National Invitation Tournament.

for Jacksonville.

Rogers took the overtime tipoff and gambled on a stall until only nine seconds remained. A shot by Ken Gooch missed and Gooch fouled Jonesboro's Joe Murphy who sank the game-winning point.

Bill Jones got 30 points for Rogers and was the only player to hit in double figures. Murphy had 14 for Jonesboro.

Today's final first round pairings show Big Nine Champs Blytheville vs. Harrison, second in 1AA; Hope, 4AA winner, vs. Pine Bluff which ranked fourth in the Big Nine.

Paragould, second in 2AA, vs. 3AA; and 1AA Champ Fayetteville vs. Fairview, third in 4AA.

Speed Record of 2,650 mph Set By X15

By RALPH DIGHTON

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A sharp nosed X15 rocketed to a record speed estimated at 2,650 miles an hour today in a paint-scorching warmup for fringe-of-space flights later this year.

Air Force Maj. Bob White, hurtled across the desert sky by the mightiest engine man has yet flown, topped by an estimated 375 m.p.h. his own mark of 2,275 m.p.h. set Feb. 7 in an X15 with a smaller power plant.

A heat-indicating paint turned the X15's nose from green to blue, yellow, black then brown as air-friction temperatures mounted toward an expected record 700 degrees.

The giant engine, believed capable of 4,000 m.p.h. and altitudes up to 100 miles, was throttled down today to about two thirds of its maximum 57,000-pound thrust.

In open-throttle flights planned soon, nose temperatures are likely to go to 1,200 degrees or higher.

Free Elector Law Becomes Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus let repeal of the state's "free electors" law become law effective without his formal approval today.

The now-repealed law was passed in the 1959 General Assembly with Faubus' backing.

Under it, names of elector candidates only—not those of the presidential and vice presidential candidates—appeared on the presidential ballot in Arkansas last November.

Theoretically, the electors were not pledged even though the states bore the party designations.

Both houses voted to put the law back where it was before the 1959 act was passed. Though voters technically still will be choosing between electoral slates, the names of the candidates will be on the ballot.

The repealer became law when Faubus didn't sign or veto it within five days after it had been received at his office.

Porkers Set Many New Cage Records

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas missed the basketball plum with the most sugar, but there definitely was not a bad taste in the Razorbacks' mouths at season's end.

Texas Tech took the top prize—the Southwest Conference basketball crown—but Arkansas compiled one of its best records otherwise, including the best win-loss record over the long season haul of any team in the league (16-7). It was the best record for a Razorback team since 1942-43 (19-7).

The 1960-61 Porkers also established all-time scoring and shooting records, and three seniors took their places in the record book for an assortment of individual marks.

Clyde Rhoden and Pat Foster further added sweetness to the season by making the all-SWC team. It was the second year for Rhoden to be honored. He also made the second team as a sophomore.

Here is a list of new records compiled by the flogs this year:

Most points scored in one full season—1,738. Old record was 1,727 in 1954-55.

Most points scored in one SVC season—1,065. Old record 1,042 set last year.

Highest scoring average for a season—75.6. Old mark 72.

Most field goals scored for a season—655. Old mark 625. Most field goals in SVC play—402. Old mark 364.

Highest field goal average .437. Old mark .384.

Highest free throw average—.745. Old mark .743.

Most games with 80 or more points in one season—10.

Rhoden set a new career scoring record for conference play, hitting 661 points in a three-year

NIT Pairings Completed, to Start March 16

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The field for the 1961 National Invitation Tournament, finally completed Tuesday, doesn't include even one of the nation's top ten college basketball teams. But there's every indication that the competition among 12 teams should be very close.

In setting up the pairings, the selection committee didn't attempt to rank the four seeded teams. Instead it listed them in roughly alphabetical order without giving an explanation why these four were selected over the other eight.

The seeded teams are Dayton (19-7), Memphis State (20-2), Niagara (16-4) and either Colorado State University (17-7) or Utah (20-6). The last entry is to be determined Saturday when Colorado State and Utah play off for the Skyline Conference championship.

The winner will go into the National Collegiate (NCAA) Tournament and the loser to the NIT.

Dayton and the Utah-Colo. State winner were placed in one bracket and Memphis State and Niagara in the other. The seeded teams will go directly into the quarter-final round.

The schedule:

Thursday night, March 16 — first round: St. Louis vs. Miami of Florida (19-6); Holy Cross (18-4) vs. Detroit (18-3).

Saturday afternoon, March 18 — first round: Temple (19-6) vs. Army (17-6); DePaul (17-7) vs. Providence (20-5).

Saturday night, March 18 — quarter-finals: Colorado State U. or Utah vs. St. Louis-Miami winner; Memphis State vs. Holy Cross-Detroit winner.

Tuesday night, March 21 — quarter-finals: Dayton vs. Temple-Army winner; Niagara vs. DePaul-Providence winner.

Thursday night, March 23 — semifinals.

Saturday afternoon, March 25 — final and consolation game.

Faubus Fears Spa Racina Bookies

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday that wide open bookmaking by Hot Springs Bookies is hurting state tax revenues and said he has asked for a tightening of betting practices.

Reports of the open bookmaking were denied by Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs. Hurst labeled the allegations as "absolutely not true."

Hurst added that bookmaking is not allowed to interfere with pari-mutual betting at the Oaklawn Jockey Club.

Duffie Searey, Garland County Sheriff, said he intended to check into the matter but added that he had received no orders from Faubus.

stint. George Kok, a 6-10 pivot man of 1945-48, got 637 points in three years. Kok is the only man ever to top 1,000 points in a career, though Rhoden came close.

Rhoden, Foster and Ronnie Garner finished their careers as number 2, 3, and 4 in all-time scoring for a three-year career.

And Coach Glen Rose has rosy views of next year in at least one respect: junior Jerry Carlton has a very good chance of overtaking Rhoden in the scoring department. Carlton needs 374 points to hitting 661 points in a three-year

Knicks Won't End Season by Losing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Knickerbockers, who long ago clinched the cellar spot in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association, at least won't end the season on a long losing streak.

Until Tuesday night, the Knicks, who are 32½ games out of first place and 161 behind their nearest opponents, were riding a nine-game losing streak with just four games to play.

They snapped out of it with a 114-113 victory over the Syracuse Nationals in Madison Square Garden. The triumph was a squeaker, for the Nats threatened to pull it out in the final seconds.

In other action, the Boston Celtics defeated the Cincinnati Royals, 124-121, and the St. Louis Hawks edged the Los Angeles Lakers, 137-136, in double overtime.

Title Winner Looking to the Playoffs

PRAIRIE VIEW, Tex. (AP) — They were soft-peddaling all enthusiasm over capturing the nation's small college basketball championship at Prairie View A&M today.

Instead of celebrating, Coach Leroy Moore and his players proceeded methodically to get ready for a game Friday in the college division of the NCAA playoffs — which Prairie View is favored to win. Their opponent is Superior State Teachers College of Wisconsin.

Prairie View, a small school with a big basketball team, claimed the No. 1 spot among smaller colleges in the season's final Associated Press poll by beating out another Negro school, Tennessee State. Ohio State took the national title in the major college poll.

In the small college poll, the Panthers got seven of 10 first place votes and a total of 97 points on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second, etc.
